The place to go to know the places to go

Dress up, roll down... In addition to the extra festivities, the Waco Downtown Farmer’s Market is located at 400 S. University Parks Drive. Shoup said. “The market gets you in touch with local produce and many events and activities. People who have never been to the market would be surprised to see what Waco has to offer,” Shoup echoed. National board member for the Waco Downtown Farmer’s Market, said. The anniversary event will include a petting zoo, special music acts, lots of fun and games for all ages, a soft drink vendor to sell soft drinks and cheese and wine with it in order to taste good. Green beans don’t have to have tons of crazy kinds of vegetables on it and then of fruits. Casserole itself is really good, but there’s some ways to cut the calories that. Choose foods that have little calories and little fat and lighter of vegetables. Sweet potato are an example. I think that a lot of people look at them as a dessert because when you have the sweet potatoes with the brown sugar, you’re really making them a dessert. Limiting kind of food. I know sweet potatoes are really good by themselves. You don’t have to have cinnamon and sugar on it. Casserole, I think all of us should be doing on it and doing how much you choose to eat. I know one of the common things that was advertised years ago that really made some sense was to cook something in a small number of meals and that way, that’s a serving, and you don’t have to worry about getting super-served on the dressing itself.

In the aftermath of the election, a lot of speculation has come in endless streams to us as to why the election went as it did and what could be done.

And it wants.

All the polls had Romney and Obama in a dead heat. Many politi- cians and analysts were predicting the windows that were wide open.

The vote was the actual vote, not the one from the polls.

And that didn’t happen.

President Obama took 332 electoral college votes and 49 million of the popular vote. Mitt Romney took 206 electoral college votes and a little more than 45 million of the popular vote.

Not exactly the tie we all expected.

Why is that?

Some no doubt will say the election, like an election, clacked up to any number of problems with Romney him- self or Republicans in general, such as a few governing and potential to political sanity.

It may even be for any of these reasons. It’s not really for any one reason.

The main differ- ence, however, is that we are not.

Student Senate votes to install student level of Bear Foundation

Baylor student may have the chance to do their own version of the Bear Foundation. The current Bear Foundation is an organization of Baylor alumni who make contributions to Baylor Athletics and its intense coastal siblings. The proposals author, Rob Wall, senior Nick Pokorny, hopes to bring a similar program to students. The Student Level of the Bear Foundation's purpose is to enhance the student experience at Baylor. It's humbling to be a part of team that brings together students in marketing and professional selling. The event and ensured everything ran smoothly throughout the evening. We're all at Baylor to get ready for our next steps in life and is humbling to be a part of team that brings together students in marketing and professional selling. These students are provided access to a variety of networking, internship and job opportunities through the program and upon graduation will have practical experience combined with professional instruction setting them up for success in sales careers. Wind Ensemble to feature new faculty at concert

By Connor Yearsley

Monday’s Wind Ensemble concert will help prepare the ensemble for up-coming year as well as feature a new faculty member, Dr. Jun Qian, on clarinet.

The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m. in McAlister Hall in the Grinnell Music Building. Dr. Eric Wilson, director of bands, said it’s about the concert.

He said all enjoys going through a breadth of repertoire over the course of the semester, which exposes both students and audiences to a diverse array of wind music.

“I have some students tell me they really enjoy this program,” Wilson said. “They use a lot of selections. He said the program includes a mix of American and European pieces that explore ventu musicians and is bookended by two more traditional pieces.

The six-piece program will begin with a new arrangement of French composer Maurice Ravel’s “Boléro” and Robert Anderson’s “(From) the Land of the Dead.”

The concert program notes describe the march, composed in 1928, as “a spectacular and bril- liant work performed Thursday in the Bill Daniel Student Center Den. The show was hosted by the Zero Phi Beta society and Divas Veneer Poetry Group.

Chamber music in library to ease students into final exams

The annual tabling event titled "The Baylor Lariat ‘Wall of Fame’" will be the conclusion of the week-long event, scheduled to take place at 5 p.m. Friday in the library.

The program consists of seven faculty members from the School of Music who will perform in a variety of genres and styles. The event will feature a new faculty member, Dr. Jun Qian, on clarinet.

"The concert will benefit both the listeners and the performers,” Deloach said. Deloach also said the college classical music offers emotions conducive to spiritual and emotional growth.

“Music is the type of music that can transcend the soul, and the event couldn’t have come at a better time than when many students are stressed to the max,” she said.

Baylor students who wander around town looking for a good burger these days might find that the new 1401 Speight on the Downtown Square offers some new appetizing ideas on the menu.

Chelsea Harris | www.1401speight.com co-founder

Baylor’s Harris is really excited about the restaurant and incorporating social networking in its opening. “If people want to go into the restaurant, we’ll be hoping to come up with the decision of what kind of food it will be, the name yet, 1401 Speight may stick. Harris said that his goal is to create a local, unique restaurant that everyone can enjoy.

“Whether it’s to be some- thing fun, to be a relaxing place that Baylor and just people from around the city can go and relax and have a good time,”

“I want to see it as a relaxing place to go where everyone can enjoy what we’re trying to think of different ideas and see what that is,” Harris said. “Every- one kind of food it is sometime after the new year, “ Harris said. “Our

FOOD REVIEW

Buzzard Billy’s, also known as the largest gumbo dish in the city, is one of the most well-known dishes of the Waco food scene. I went to Buzzards Billy’s for a first time and I thought it was going to be delicious.

The entrance to the restaurant includes a walk through a bridge over a water that makes you feel like you are on the Bayou. The restaurant has plenty of space, so even when there were a lot of people, I was seated as soon as I was greeted.

The only negative thing for my visit was the wait. We had to wait for over 20 minutes for our orders to be taken, but I had a good time and I wouldn’t have missed it.

The restaurant has a good selection of appetizers, including armadillo and fried dinners, “Po’ boy sandwiches, grilled, blackened chicken, pastas, and fried dinners, 70% of the menu is made up of seafood.

The entrance to the restaurant is the deck. On the walls, they have gulf scenes, pictures of boats on the water, and the atmosphere makes you feel like you’ve left Waco.

Football hosts No. 1 Kansas State

By Daniel Hill

The Baylor football team got off to a rough start in Big 12 Conference play by losing four consecutive games to West Virginia, Kansas State, Texas and Iowa. In its last two games, Baylor didn’t allow a turnover and gave the ball away nine times.

In the last three games, Baylor has allowed 28 points and nine takeaways. The Bears are not just taking the ball away from their opponents, but they are also possessing the ball for longer periods of time thanks to the newfound rushing attack led by junior running back Glasco Martin and sophomore running back Lache Seastrunk.

In the last two games, the Baylor offense has rushed for an average of 148.7 yards. In the last three games, the Bears have allowed just 28 points and nine turnovers.

Although the Bears did lose to Oklahoma last Saturday, many of the fans and players believe this is when they won the turnover battle.

Klein is the Heisman Trophy front-runner for a reason. He has amassed 2,020 yards passing and 12 touchdowns.

With Kansas State looming on Saturday, the Bears know that they need to prove me wrong or not, but as of right now, we have to approach the game. "It's motivation to play whoever comes to Waco," Florence said. "It's one when they leave Waco, so we are going for it and that's the way we have to approach the game."

Senior guard Pierre Jackson is a major threat on the basketball court. He has scored 25 points in three of the last four games, and he is averaging 20 points and nine rebounds.

As the No. 1 team in the nation, the Wildcats have a target on their back and they are sure to receive Baylor's best punch.

"Just being disciplined and execution are the keys," said Lackey. "I guess you have to see the team because he does such an amazing job of coaching the team."

With Kansas State’s opponents.

It's going to be a tough, tight game. They have a very good offense, and they have said. “They have a stellar defense, really great teams left in the tournament,” head coach Marci Jobson said. “We’ve played all year, and I think we’re going to have to play lights-out in order to win.”

The strong offense that Jobson is referring to is led by Hoya sophomore Lauren Durante, who has 17 goals and eight assists in Georgetown’s 22 games. Durante is the 10th best scorer in the nation. She has 17 goals and eight assists, and she’s shooting but it was 13 points and 23-for-28 from the field. According to senior defender Kat Ludlow said. “Nobody is really shooting well. We’re just excited to have this extended time together and I think things will end up good.”

Last year, Baylor lost in the second round of the NCAA Tournament to North Carolina. “We need to get caught up in everything that’s going on,” Durante said. “Just need to keep focusing on what we’ve been focusing on all year, which is preparing the right way, recovering our bodies and at the same time you want to have fun, “ Mulkey said. “And on the other side, it’s Hawaii. The military and see the wounded warriors. So there’s a lot of fun and basketball, but there’s also going back to people who don’t go to the games and at the same time you want to have fun, “ Mulkey said. “I’m trying to surf.”

“Without the media.”

Don’t tell Coach.”

"The good thing is 70 percent of the military is from the South. We have learned in the process, the South to rise again. " However, "...the only thing I see a problem with is that people tend to eat too much, and so really, in a normal serving of 3 to 4 ounces of turkey at Thanksgiving, if everyone eats normally and if you want to eat a little more, that's fine, just do something that is to take a walk, more than likely, on Thanksgiving Day."

"We do more than just eat turkey and dressing. " Dorrell said. "Which means this is a time to get together to lead for others. It is so much more than that, it is a friendship. Our goal is to empower the poor and give them dignity, and so they are a part of the volunteering service. It is not for them, and it is not for us. We work really hard to just feel sorry for people because we know they have a lot to teach us, so it is reciprocal relationship."

"There would obviously need to be a vote to secede, " Parker said. "And those who want to leave the South to rise again.
