Granny’s got a gun

Lise Lacroix, right, asked her mother Thelma Lacroix to pose with a customer's Ruger Mini 14. 223 semi-automatic rifle on Monday at All Around Pizza and Dell in Virginia Beach, Va., where customers wearing weapons or who bring their concealed weapons permit are offered a 15 percent discount.

Lawmakers seek to block federal gun control laws

AUSTIN — Police officers could be charged with assisting an enforcing new federal gun control laws in Texas under a proposal by a freshman lawmaker who advocates the measure. Both would end up in the U.S. Supreme Court, unless the elected Republicans from the Texas House and Senate pass a law preventing federal laws from being enforced in the state.

Unlike last year’s effort, when the program only ran a few weeks, this year’s program will begin in the next couple of weeks and will last until Apr 12. Passports will also be available to pick up in the student government office, located in the Hill Student Center. Therefore, about 700 to 1,000 passports are being printed now and will be available soon. Student government plans to advertise this through the Lariat as well as on Facebook, Twitter, and their website.

Last year was the first year we opened Passport to Waco to help us see a great crowd of Baylor students,” Staley Levy, Dean for Student Government said. "It may end up in the Supreme Court,” he said.

Several recently elected lawmakers have called for block federal gun control laws, saying: “This is one of several recent right-to-carry laws that have been passed in other states. Like them, it is intended to give the people of Texas the right to bear arms and protect themselves.”

The state’s constitutional right to bear arms is protected by the Second Amendment to the United States Constitution. The amendment states: “A well regulated Militia, being necessary, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed.”

Passport payoffs in students’ future

At Baylor, attendance requirements are in place to encourage students to attend classes, but some students believe these policies are too strict and burdensome.

Attending-Don’ts: Policy seriously insults students

University should abolish attendance policy, let students prioritize their time.

Prison terms handed down in Texas kidnapping case

The Texas House of Representatives voted to expand the state’s sex offender registry to include those convicted of having a kidnapping offense.

The measure, HB 233, would expand the current sex offender registry to include those convicted of kidnapping as well as child abduction.

The bill passed the House on Tuesday with a vote of 96-3 and now moves to the Senate for consideration.

The legislation is part of a broader effort by lawmakers to strengthen laws related to sex offenses and child abuse.

The proposal would require the Department of Public Safety to maintain a registry of all registered sex offenders and child abusers.

Advocates say the expansion is necessary to protect children from predators and to ensure accountability for those who commit these crimes.

For the Sing competition, the top eight teams advance to Pigpen House, a performance area that displays the top acts from the pre-show Sing.

Last spring, Sing Alliance did not move on to Pigpen. Although they didn’t reach their goal, Martin believes this year the group is more prepared.

For the Spring Fix, 50 of the students to participate in Sing who are not part of organizations that traditionally participate.

The program will take place at the students who apply and bring them to New York to work with the storm victims through the United Way website.

With spring break right around the corner, many students are scrambling to plan for that one precious week without school. This year, a unique alternative to the usual carousels, lake house and frat parties has promised itself in MTV’s United Way Spring Fix.

MTV, the music television channel, has partnered with the United Way of Greater Austin, the United Way of Chicago, and the United Way of San Mateo County.

The United Way of Greater Austin has been offering thousands of young people the opportunity to do meaningful work since its 2006 efforts for disaster relief. Since the 2006 efforts for disaster relief, the United Way has received widespread support from college students all over the country.

The experience is rewarding.

The Baylor Bears started their first win of the season by defeating the Texas Southern Tigers 63-1 at Baylor Ballpark Tuesday night. The Bears overall record is now 3-1 heading into a weekend series against UCLA at Usta. The Bears came out strong on the top of the first and made sure the mistakes were detected. “We’re ready to go. We’re coming out our first game at home and you’re going to be a little amped up,” junior center forward Cory Jefferson said. Langford said. “You’ve got some butterflies and just want to get the big you way as little as a little bit more than two weeks and have the ball started and started playing like we’re supposed to. Langford committed an error on a ground ball near second base when the ball could have possibly had a double play. Instead Langford bobble the ball and couldnt get the runner out at either second or third.
