With March Madness upon us and spring break over, it is the time of year when everyone gets serious. Students find that making push academically for the perfect GPA before the semester ends and basketball teams compete for the opportunity to play for a National Championship. This competition is real for the No. 1 Lady Bears as they try to meet high expectations and advance to the Final Four round in New Orleans for a chance to win consecutive national titles.

The Final Four is April 6-8 in New Orleans Arena. New Orleans is a great location because it is a lively city with much to do. Starting April 6, there will be an event called TremeTown, which is a fan fest celebrating the host city of the Final Four, located in downtown New Orleans adjacent to New Orleans Arena. There will be a stage on the city’s historic quarter and numerous concerts and events. The music will include top performers and local legends, the ABTV Macabre, chic-fil-a, and Black Sheep, just to name a few. This is a must-see event. Lady Bears head coach stresses academics on top of sports

By Greg DeVries

The decision to take this coaching position was one that would alter her life forever as she would no longer perceive an opportunity to make it in coaching in women’s basketball throughout her career. During her tenure as an assistant coach, Mulkey had head coaching offers from schools such as Missouri, Southern Illinois and Texas A&M, but she declined in order to stay loyal to Louisiana Tech.

After achieving the highest winning percentage in the history of women’s basketball, Mulkey nationalized and left the program.

During contract negotiations, Mulkey had her heart set on a five-year deal. Louisiana, however, had a signing agreement in mind. DePaul, Seattle’s bagging and pitching, Texas would not budge, and Mulkey accepted Butler’s five-year offer and moved to Waco.

Since then, Mulkey has coached her teams to win Big 12 Championship, including two in a row from 2009-2013, and two National Championship. She has been named the Big 12 Coach of the Year four times and has earned 100% National Coach of the Year Honors in both 2011 and 2012.

Mulkey is already a member of both the National High School Hall of Fame; the Louisiana High School Sports Hall of Fame; and the Louisiana Sports Hall of Fame and the Louisiana Tech Athletics Hall of Fame.

The New Orleans Arena located at the Superdome, The New Orleans Arena will house the Women’s Basketball Final Four on April 6-8.

Some of the events in TremeTown include the Capital One Fan Zone, the AT&T Fan Zone, the Coke Zero Refreshment Court and the Allstate Good Hands Fan Zone. The Capital One Fan Zone allows fans to compete in sports. The opportunity to win prizes increases the more one attends the games on the plaza. On April 7, there will also have a chance to meet Lesiana Lucas, a former WSU basketball player and four-time Olympic gold medalist, for autographs. The AT&T Fan Zone allows fans to stop by for a photo with a纳斯 Foto, which is given to the best male and female players in the country. The Coke Zero Refreshment Court has sampling stations; the Coke Zero 3-point competition; temporary tattoo parlors and the opportunity to purchase some Coke Zero branded gear. The Allstate Good Hands Fan Zone has other activities including the Coca-Cola Truck which has the largest 50-foot inflatable Coca-Cola truck ever built. It is 30 feet tall, 40 feet wide, and 100 feet long. It is parked next to New Orleans doesn’t need to be limited to TremeTown. New Orleans is a city with scenic beauty, historic sites, a charming street to visit the French Quarter, which is the cultural hub of New Orleans. People can sight-see, shop and dine. Jackson Square is also located inside the French Quarter as it is filled with arts, jugglers, musicians and artists. On the street, the famous Mardi Gras parades come to life, and the fun continues into the night. The New Orleans Arena, located at the Superdome, will house the Women’s Basketball Final Four on April 6-8.
