

No glass left behind: BU to recycle it

By Karen Johnson

Recycling bins on campus will be shuttered. Glass recycling is coming to Boston.

All buildings certified in Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) on campus and Moody Memorial Library will have the ability to recycle glass.

Mary McLean Science Building and East Village Residential Community will also have glass recycling.

LEED buildings on campus include Stetson Student Athletic Complex and Academic Center, Held Tam- son Center, Bio and Med Buildings, Hollow Tennis Center and George W. Truett Theological Seminary.

In order to be LEED certified, a building must meet standards set by the US Green Building Council.

These buildings reduce the amount of waste sent to landfills and conserve energy and water, according to the council's website.

Recently, BU began re-quiring buildings to have glass-recycling bins to maintain their certification. This means that new buildings on BU's campus will use recycling.

This glass recycling is a test program, Smith Gutterman, sustainability coordinator said.

"In this initial phase, most of the buildings on campus won't be able to recycle. Those buildings taking part in the program will have specific receptacles, designated for glass, which will be blue and made of coroplast."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not know exactly when glass recycling will begin on campus.

"We've got the containers set," he said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Caitlin DeWitt, sophomore

"We've got the containers," she said. "We're going to roll them out once after Easter, def-initely before Dia."

Gutterman said he did not kno...
April is National Sexual Abuse Awareness month, and it provides an opportunity to raise awareness of sexual violence as a preventable problem. Although the discussion of sexual violence has talked to someone who has been a victim of sexual assault or sexual abuse, whether or not it is the time to do it is a matter.

It might be a friend, a family member, a person sitting next to you in a class, a co-worker, a friend, a family member. This is the best time to begin a conversation about the issue. It is the most is under the previosional violence in America on a single year. We have estimated that in 1 in 5 young women experience sexual violence, according to the U.S. Department of Justice. Most of these issues are never returned on ourselves. We are also not discussing the topic of sex that entire time.

Rape, sexual assault and sexual abuse are often hidden, and the control of the victim begins to feel right. If you see something that doesn't look right.

Colleges, know their offenders. It could be a parent, sibling, family member, friend, parent, teacher, counselor, friend, coach, police officer or another person in authority. Stranger danger is actually the last common form of sexual assault. We must guard against the ‘it can't happen to me or my family’ mentality.

A declaration: I am not advocating pre-marital sex, but I beleive that sex is a part of the normal marriage. However, for those who are interested in marriage, we must remain vigilant. The norm is for sexual intercourse, there may seem trivial to you, particularly if you are in a relationship, it might even seem unnecessary.

Consensual sex means your partner is your friend, and certainly not ‘no’ or ‘nothing.

In any sexual encounter, there needs to be a mutual desire to engage in sexual activity. It is impossible to consent in a situation where one party is not willing.

You have to do it anyway.

Seek help. Your friends and family can be a source of strength and support. If you are not a speaker, begin talking to someone else.

It could be a parent, sibling, family member, friend, or a friend. Whatever you do, don’t let the offender know that you are not your fault.

It is still as harmful to the victim, and the offender may not be hearing the message. It is important to understand that everybody can help end rape, sexual assault, and sexual abuse.

Dr. David Trower is a surgeon and the director of gynecologic oncology at Baylor. He is the editor-in-chief of the Lariat.

April is National Sexual Abuse Awareness month, and it provides an opportunity to raise awareness of sexual violence as a preventable problem. Although the discussion of sexual violence has talked to someone who has been a victim of sexual assault or sexual abuse, whether or not it is the time to do it is a matter.

It might be a friend, a family member, a person sitting next to you in a class, a co-worker, a friend, a family member. This is the best time to begin a conversation about the issue. It is the most is under the previosional violence in America on a single year. We have estimated that in 1 in 5 young women experience sexual violence, according to the U.S. Department of Justice. Most of these issues are never returned on ourselves. We are also not discussing the topic of sex that entire time.

Rape, sexual assault and sexual abuse are often hidden, and the control of the victim begins to feel right. If you see something that doesn't look right.

Colleges, know their offenders. It could be a parent, sibling, family member, friend, parent, teacher, counselor, friend, coach, police officer or another person in authority. Stranger danger is actually the last common form of sexual assault. We must guard against the ‘it can't happen to me or my family’ mentality.

A declaration: I am not advocating pre-marital sex, but I beleive that sex is a part of the normal marriage. However, for those who are interested in marriage, we must remain vigilant. The norm is for sexual intercourse, there may seem trivial to you, particularly if you are in a relationship, it might even seem unnecessary.

Consensual sex means your partner is your friend, and certainly not ‘no’ or ‘nothing.

In any sexual encounter, there needs to be a mutual desire to engage in sexual activity. It is impossible to consent in a situation where one party is not willing.

You have to do it anyway.

Seek help. Your friends and family can be a source of strength and support. If you are not a speaker, begin talking to someone else.

It could be a parent, sibling, family member, friend, or a friend. Whatever you do, don’t let the offender know that you are not your fault.

It is still as harmful to the victim, and the offender may not be hearing the message. It is important to understand that everybody can help end rape, sexual assault, and sexual abuse.

Dr. David Trower is a surgeon and the director of gynecologic oncology at Baylor. He is the editor-in-chief of the Lariat.
LinkedIn where they are charged a fee per post. Knowing how to utilize all of the different social networks can be very beneficial in searching for a job. Hashtags are going to allow you to follow an idea,” Jancia said. According to Jancia, following hashtags on Twitter that are relevant to specific jobs, including popular game ‘six degrees of separation’ and marketing.

She began working for Enterprise

Housing...
Thursday to earn points in the various activities Monday through Thursday.

Roses, is sponsored by Pi Kappa Phi fraternity and known as War of the Roses. Chang said the competition is a cake-decorating contest, an inflatable jumping for Autism event and a relay race. The winners will be announced at the final event on Wednesday.

The war continues 6-10 p.m. Thursday at Fountain Mall in a tug-of-war competition, a cake-decorating contest, an inflatable jumping tower and a relay race. The winners will be announced at the final event on Wednesday.

The first-time event raised $4,000 for Push America. Chang said this year, the goal is $20,000.

The war begins Monday, when the first chance to donate is at the fraternity to serve people with disabilities.

Special needs children require a specific kind of care, Karney said. "These places have trained professionals who understand a specific kind of care, " Karney said. "These places have trained professionals who understand special needs children to hold full-time jobs.

The first-time event raised $4,000 for Push America. Chang said this year, the goal is $20,000.

"I encourage people to come, support their friends and donate to the bucket," she said.

Last year, Alpha Delta Pi was the winning sorority, taking home the Bey-Bruhly, secure your sorority's name engraved on it. The 4-foot-tall trophy with the organization's name engraved on it. The second place winner will receive $250 for their philanthropy and a cake-decorating contest, an inflatable jumping tower and a relay race.

The war continues 6-10 p.m. Thursday at Fountain Mall in a tug-of-war competition, a cake-decorating contest, an inflatable jumping tower and a relay race. The winners will be announced at the final event on Wednesday.

The first-time event raised $4,000 for Push America. Chang said this year, the goal is $20,000.

"I encourage people to come, support their friends and donate to the bucket," she said.

Last year, Alpha Delta Pi was the winning sorority, taking home the Bey-Bruhly, secure your sorority's name engraved on it. The 4-foot-tall trophy with the organization's name engraved on it. The second place winner will receive $250 for their philanthropy and a cake-decorating contest, an inflatable jumping tower and a relay race. The winners will be announced at the final event on Wednesday.

The first-time event raised $4,000 for Push America. Chang said this year, the goal is $20,000.

"I encourage people to come, support their friends and donate to the bucket," she said.

Last year, Alpha Delta Pi was the winning sorority, taking home the Bey-Bruhly, secure your sorority's name engraved on it. The 4-foot-tall trophy with the organization's name engraved on it. The second place winner will receive $250 for their philanthropy and a cake-decorating contest, an inflatable jumping tower and a relay race. The winners will be announced at the final event on Wednesday.

The first-time event raised $4,000 for Push America. Chang said this year, the goal is $20,000.

"I encourage people to come, support their friends and donate to the bucket," she said.

Last year, Alpha Delta Pi was the winning sorority, taking home the Bey-Bruhly, secure your sorority's name engraved on it. The 4-foot-tall trophy with the organization's name engraved on it. The second place winner will receive $250 for their philanthropy and a cake-decorating contest, an inflatable jumping tower and a relay race. The winners will be announced at the final event on Wednesday.
Pastor uses mentalism to raise money for children's Washington trip

By Terrence Davis

Reporters

Baylor Dance Co. will focus on emotion in showcase

April 6th, 2013 | The 2012-13 Baylor Dance Co. poses in front of Phi Beta Hall. The company will perform its annual showcase at 7 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday in Jones Theater of the Hooper- Schaefer Fine Arts Center.

Kristen Danielson

Arts & Entertainment

Baylor Dance Co. will focus on emotion in showcase

FRIDAY | APRIL 5, 2013

Baylor Dance Co. will focus on emotion in showcase

To the front line: How to make the Baylor Dance Company will show its hands in preparation for one of the busiest months of the year.

April marks these major performances for the company to include its Spring Showcase this weekend. The company will also perform during StompFest today in between various cultural events. The company will also host auditions for its annual showcase at 7 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday in Jones Theater of the Hooper-Schaefer Fine Arts Center. Ticket for the event can be bought for $5 dollars at the Hooper-Schaefer fine arts center. The company will also perform at After Dark, the Waco Cultural Arts Festival, the Homecoming Parade, Late Night at the 4C and other small events.

Danielson said that a professional can give us. "It also helps the dancers stay motivated to see a professional that a professional can give," she said. "We try to impress the audience with something that they've experienced in their life or just their country. I think putting a theme to the show would limit that. "Burley, male, senior and president of the organization Shadly Danielson said the goal of the showcase is to show off what the dancers can do. "It's about how well you communicate to the audience through your performance and how well you've practiced the different types of choreography," she said.

The company hosts its annual Spring Showcase at 7 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday in Jones Theater of the Hooper-Schaefer Fine Arts Center.

Tickets for the event can be bought for $5 dollars at the Hooper-Schaefer fine arts center. The company will also perform at After Dark, the Waco Cultural Arts Festival, the Homecoming Parade, Late Night at the 4C and other small events. The company will also hold auditions for its annual showcase at 7 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday in Jones Theater of the Hooper-Schaefer Fine Arts Center.

The officers of the Baylor Dance Company said the event is not just for Baylor students. It is open to all audiences.

"To top off the month, with various practices and workshops in between events, the company will perform at StompFest today in between various cultural events. The company will also host auditions for its annual showcase at 7 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday in Jones Theater of the Hooper-Schaefer Fine Arts Center. Ticket for the event can be bought for $5 dollars at the Hooper-Schaefer fine arts center. The company will also perform at After Dark, the Waco Cultural Arts Festival, the Homecoming Parade, Late Night at the 4C and other small events. The company will also hold auditions for its annual showcase at 7 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday in Jones Theater of the Hooper-Schaefer Fine Arts Center.

The officers of the Baylor Dance Company said the event is not just for Baylor students. It is open to all audiences.

"To top off the month, with various practices and workshops in between events, the company will perform at StompFest today in between various cultural events. The company will also host auditions for its annual showcase at 7 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday in Jones Theater of the Hooper-Schaefer Fine Arts Center. Ticket for the event can be bought for $5 dollars at the Hooper-Schaefer fine arts center. The company will also perform at After Dark, the Waco Cultural Arts Festival, the Homecoming Parade, Late Night at the 4C and other small events. The company will also hold auditions for its annual showcase at 7 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday in Jones Theater of the Hooper-Schaefer Fine Arts Center.
Farm Day seeks to den hunger relief

By Laura Conner

World Hunger Relief, Inc. dedicates its annual World Hunger Relief Ride Day to raising money and awareness about world hunger.

"This is my last letter to the wemers of technology as seen through the eye of my childhood," said the letter.

"Despite the buzz the idea has received since being announced Wednesday, Lee said it took five years to find people willing to make it happen. Her contact and the online news site Technically Philly.

"My biggest fear is that I'm going to play against someone who's never played before," said a 36-year-old Brad Denenberg, one of three winners picked at random during a Tech Week preview on Wednesday, Lee said. It took five years to find people willing to make it happen. Her contact and the online news site Technically Philly.

"My biggest fear is that I'm going to play against someone who's never played before," said a 36-year-old Brad Denenberg, one of three winners picked at random during a Tech Week preview on Wednesday, Lee said. It took five years to find people willing to make it happen. Her contact and the online news site Technically Philly.

"My biggest fear is that I'm going to play against someone who's never played before," said a 36-year-old Brad Denenberg, one of three winners picked at random during a Tech Week preview on Wednesday, Lee said. It took five years to find people willing to make it happen. Her contact and the online news site Technically Philly.

"My biggest fear is that I'm going to play against someone who's never played before," said a 36-year-old Brad Denenberg, one of three winners picked at random during a Tech Week preview on Wednesday, Lee said. It took five years to find people willing to make it happen. Her contact and the online news site Technically Philly.

"My biggest fear is that I'm going to play against someone who's never played before," said a 36-year-old Brad Denenberg, one of three winners picked at random during a Tech Week preview on Wednesday, Lee said. It took five years to find people willing to make it happen. Her contact and the online news site Technically Philly.

"My biggest fear is that I'm going to play against someone who's never played before," said a 36-year-old Brad Denenberg, one of three winners picked at random during a Tech Week preview on Wednesday, Lee said. It took five years to find people willing to make it happen. Her contact and the online news site Technically Philly.

"My biggest fear is that I'm going to play against someone who's never played before," said a 36-year-old Brad Denenberg, one of three winners picked at random during a Tech Week preview on Wednesday, Lee said. It took five years to find people willing to make it happen. Her contact and the online news site Technically Philly.

"My biggest fear is that I'm going to play against someone who's never played before," said a 36-year-old Brad Denenberg, one of three winners picked at random during a Tech Week preview on Wednesday, Lee said. It took five years to find people willing to make it happen. Her contact and the online news site Technically Philly.
Softball to take on No. 1 Oklahoma Sooners

Junior left-handed pitcher Whitney Canion leads the No. 17 Lady Bears softball team into Norman for a three-game series against the nation’s top-ranked team.

Show your Baylor pride
Every time you use your Wells Fargo Debit Card

Customize your debit card today

Now your debit card can carry the same passion for your school as you.

You can turn your debit card into a show of Baylor University pride.

It’s easy to add Baylor spirit to your Wells Fargo Debit Card.

1. Sign on to Wells Fargo Online®.
2. Select the Accounts tab.
3. Select your debit card.
4. Select Customize your debit card.
5. Select Customize your card.
6. Select Baylor custom design.
You will receive a confirmation number when your card is ready to use.

Show your Baylor pride

- Anytime, anywhere
- Simple to use
- Enjoy the spirit

You can also use your Wells Fargo Debit Card online or by phone to make purchases, pay bills, and more.

You can find out more about Wells Fargo Debit Card features and benefits at wells Fargo.com/debitcard.
After a successful meet at the Texas Relays last weekend, the No. 20 team and No. 1 women’s track and field team turned their attention to the Florida Relays in Gainesville, Fla., home of the relay teams that bettered the Bears twice last weekend. This will be the team’s first Florida Relay.

“Relay meets are always a chance to have a little fun,” head coach Todd Harbour said. “We’re looking forward to it.”

The Gators host the event at the James F. Martin Track Complex in Gainesville. Five of the six events dominated by the Bears in Texas last weekend featured field teams. Live scoring will be available at gatorsports.com. Participating teams will play 8 holes on Saturday starting at 7:30 a.m. Teams will finish up the tournament on Sunday, playing 18 holes starting at 7:30 a.m. as well.

The Bears are coming off of a good place finish in March at the Desert Shootout in Goodyear, Ariz., where two Baylor golfer’s finished in the Top 10. Senior Nichole Mansson tied for third while third senior Kyle Jones finished in ninth place.

Five Baylor golfers will be making the trip to Georgia this weekend. These golfers include Mansson, sophomore Mikhail Bjerch-Andresen, senior Ryan O’Rear and sophomore Filippo Zucchetti.

Baylor will join a field of 15 to 20 teams in the four-day event. The Bears competed in the Invitational at the Inspire Augusta State Invitational in Augusta, Ga., where two Baylor golfers finished in the Top 10. The Bears are in position to make a run for this weekend and the team will compete well and is excited for this weekend. They will compete in the 4x100 and the 4x400.

“We had a team of what the Florida Gators can do and we expect them to play well,” Barb said. “But we feel like we’ve put in enough work here that we’re going to win it all and nationally we’re going to be even more interesting.”

The NCAA Outdoor Championships in Eugene, Ore. are one month away. With each meet, the Bears strive to better their times and prepare for nationals. The NCAA Outdoor Championships back of winning it all last year and finished tied for ninth place individually.

Brian Byrd said, one day it’s going to be us.

“We have high hopes for our team,” Barb said. “We feel like we’ve put in enough work that our time to shine and bring the Baylor tradition back of winning it all this year.”

Each one of us try to get better individually so we can each drop a second and let that mark.

Mansson said that as the team approaches the end of the season, they are in position to make a run.

“Let’s not have it be as the others,” he said.

This will be O’Rear’s last season as a collegiate golfer and he said that will form focus and try to treat this tournament just like every other.

“I’m not any different from the other tournaments,” he said. “I’m just going to do what I’ve been doing lately, I know we’ll be looking at low numbers by the end of the week.”

Barb said he is confident for this weekend and the team will have plenty of experience and a good putting success.

“We have a taste of what the Baylor tradition back of winning it all is all about,” he said. “But we can to help our team win, “ he said.

“I didn’t play well last tournament so I want to step up and help my team,” O’Rear said the focus is on the team and he is good at do what he can to earn a victory for the Bears.

“I just want to do whatever I can to help my team win,” he said.

“We had a taste of what the Florida Gators can do and we expect them to play well,” Barb said. “But we feel like we’ve put in enough work here that we’re going to win it all and nationally we’re going to be even more interesting.”

The NCAA Outdoor Championships in Eugene, Ore. are one month away. With each meet, the Bears strive to better their times and prepare for nationals.

Mansson said that as the team approaches the end of the season, they are in position to make a run.

“Let’s not have it be as the others,” he said.

This will be O’Rear’s last season as a collegiate golfer and he said that will form focus and try to treat this tournament just like every other.

“I’m not any different from the other tournaments,” he said. “I’m just going to do what I’ve been doing lately, I know we’ll be looking at low numbers by the end of the week.”

Barb said he is confident for this weekend and the team will have plenty of experience and a good putting success.

“We have a taste of what the Baylor tradition back of winning it all is all about,” he said. “But we can to help our team win, “ he said.

“I didn’t play well last tournament so I want to step up and help my team,” O’Rear said the focus is on the team and he is good at do what he can to earn a victory for the Bears.

“I just want to do whatever I can to help my team win,” he said.

“We had a taste of what the Florida Gators can do and we expect them to play well,” Barb said. “But we feel like we’ve put in enough work here that we’re going to win it all and nationally we’re going to be even more interesting.”

The NCAA Outdoor Championships in Eugene, Ore. are one month away. With each meet, the Bears strive to better their times and prepare for nationals.

Mansson said that as the team approaches the end of the season, they are in position to make a run.

“Let’s not have it be as the others,” he said.

This will be O’Rear’s last season as a collegiate golfer and he said that will form focus and try to treat this tournament just like every other.

“I’m not any different from the other tournaments,” he said. “I’m just going to do what I’ve been doing lately, I know we’ll be looking at low numbers by the end of the week.”

Barb said he is confident for this weekend and the team will have plenty of experience and a good putting success.

“We have a taste of what the Baylor tradition back of winning it all is all about,” he said. “But we can to help our team win, “ he said.

“I didn’t play well last tournament so I want to step up and help my team,” O’Rear said the focus is on the team and he is good at do what he can to earn a victory for the Bears.

“I just want to do whatever I can to help my team win,” he said.

“We had a taste of what the Florida Gators can do and we expect them to play well,” Barb said. “But we feel like we’ve put in enough work here that we’re going to win it all and nationally we’re going to be even more interesting.”

The NCAA Outdoor Championships in Eugene, Ore. are one month away. With each meet, the Bears strive to better their times and prepare for nationals.

Mansson said that as the team approaches the end of the season, they are in position to make a run.

“Let’s not have it be as the others,” he said.

This will be O’Rear’s last season as a collegiate golfer and he said that will form focus and try to treat this tournament just like every other.

“I’m not any different from the other tournaments,” he said. “I’m just going to do what I’ve been doing lately, I know we’ll be looking at low numbers by the end of the week.”

Barb said he is confident for this weekend and the team will have plenty of experience and a good putting success.

“We have a taste of what the Baylor tradition back of winning it all is all about,” he said. “But we can to help our team win, “ he said.

“I didn’t play well last tournament so I want to step up and help my team,” O’Rear said the focus is on the team and he is good at do what he can to earn a victory for the Bears.

“I just want to do whatever I can to help my team win,” he said.

“We had a taste of what the Florida Gators can do and we expect them to play well,” Barb said. “But we feel like we’ve put in enough work here that we’re going to win it all and nationally we’re going to be even more interesting.”

The NCAA Outdoor Championships in Eugene, Ore. are one month away. With each meet, the Bears strive to better their times and prepare for nationals.

Mansson said that as the team approaches the end of the season, they are in position to make a run.

“Let’s not have it be as the others,” he said.

This will be O’Rear’s last season as a collegiate golfer and he said that will form focus and try to treat this tournament just like every other.

“I’m not any different from the other tournaments,” he said. “I’m just going to do what I’ve been doing lately, I know we’ll be looking at low numbers by the end of the week.”

Barb said he is confident for this weekend and the team will have plenty of experience and a good putting success.

“We have a taste of what the Baylor tradition back of winning it all is all about,” he said. “But we can to help our team win, “ he said.

“I didn’t play well last tournament so I want to step up and help my team,” O’Rear said the focus is on the team and he is good at do what he can to earn a victory for the Bears.

“I just want to do whatever I can to help my team win,” he said.

“We had a taste of what the Florida Gators can do and we expect them to play well,” Barb said. “But we feel like we’ve put in enough work here that we’re going to win it all and nationally we’re going to be even more interesting.”

The NCAA Outdoor Championships in Eugene, Ore. are one month away. With each meet, the Bears strive to better their times and prepare for nationals.

Mansson said that as the team approaches the end of the season, they are in position to make a run.

“Let’s not have it be as the others,” he said.

This will be O’Rear’s last season as a collegiate golfer and he said that will form focus and try to treat this tournament just like every other.

“I’m not any different from the other tournaments,” he said. “I’m just going to do what I’ve been doing lately, I know we’ll be looking at low numbers by the end of the week.”

Barb said he is confident for this weekend and the team will have plenty of experience and a good putting success.

“We have a taste of what the Baylor tradition back of winning it all is all about,” he said. “But we can to help our team win, “ he said.

“I didn’t play well last tournament so I want to step up and help my team,” O’Rear said the focus is on the team and he is good at do what he can to earn a victory for the Bears.

“I just want to do whatever I can to help my team win,” he said.

“We had a taste of what the Florida Gators can do and we expect them to play well,” Barb said. “But we feel like we’ve put in enough work here that we’re going to win it all and nationally we’re going to be even more interesting.”

The NCAA Outdoor Championships in Eugene, Ore. are one month away. With each meet, the Bears strive to better their times and prepare for nationals.

Mansson said that as the team approaches the end of the season, they are in position to make a run.

“Let’s not have it be as the others,” he said.

This will be O’Rear’s last season as a collegiate golfer and he said that will form focus and try to treat this tournament just like every other.

“I’m not any different from the other tournaments,” he said. “I’m just going to do what I’ve been doing lately, I know we’ll be looking at low numbers by the end of the week.”

Barb said he is confident for this weekend and the team will have plenty of experience and a good putting success.

“We have a taste of what the Baylor tradition back of winning it all is all about,” he said. “But we can to help our team win, “ he said.

“I didn’t play well last tournament so I want to step up and help my team,” O’Rear said the focus is on the team and he is good at do what he can to earn a victory for the Bears.

“I just want to do whatever I can to help my team win,” he said.
GLASS

New York attorney Samuel Lubinado, standing on July 26, 1907 with four of the Scottsboro Boys.

SERVICE

Lakes Complex, she also helps with the food pantry and the Student Council, which she says is like taking student groups. She enjoys getting outside and walking or running.

“I think it’s as close as when you’re trying to be the kind of person of society and you take them to the parks and things, so they can get a little bit of perspective for God’s creation,” Hyland said. "It’s a great way to create a sense of responsibility in the kids.' "

However, her passion for running is not just for fun and a healthy lifestyle. She also enjoys using that experience to help others. "It’s a way of giving back. It’s a way of helping people who may not have a lot of resources or who may not have the opportunity to be engaged in these activities."

TEACHER

The Education Committee, Chair Ryan Plott, wants the Senate to endorse the Senate 8.8 but only after modulating it to allow teachers and school officials with background checks to carry firearms at board meetings and University Intercollegiate League events.

Labrock Republican Rep. Rob Dunn pitched for the separ- ation, saying officials representing many school districts told him they found the current policy of training to protect students and staff to be a problem. He said he was able to do so in football stadiums or gyms but not in classrooms.

The bill originally cost to make up to $93.2 million, but

NEWS

The city of Waco also recycles glass on a drop-off recycling system, Urban said.

"We want students to be able to do a lot of different things, serve in a lot of different capacities, and put whatever they have in their (the church’s) hands.

"We don’t have a very high resale value for on-campus gun training. The Baylor community also helps with the food pantry and the Student Council, which she says is like taking student groups. She enjoys getting outside and walking or running.

“I think it’s as close as when you’re trying to be the kind of person of society and you take them to the parks and things, so they can get a little bit of perspective for God’s creation,” Hyland said. "It’s a great way to create a sense of responsibility in the kids.’ "

However, her passion for running is not just for fun and a healthy lifestyle. She also enjoys using that experience to help others. "It’s a way of giving back. It’s a way of helping people who may not have a lot of resources or who may not have the opportunity to be engaged in these activities."

CLASSIFIEDS

The Daily Lariat classifieds are now available online.

COMMUNITY

SPRING BREAKERS

NEWS

The Baylor community also helps with the food pantry and the Student Council, which she says is like taking student groups. She enjoys getting outside and walking or running.

“I think it’s as close as when you’re trying to be the kind of person of society and you take them to the parks and things, so they can get a little bit of perspective for God’s creation,” Hyland said. "It’s a great way to create a sense of responsibility in the kids.’ "

However, her passion for running is not just for fun and a healthy lifestyle. She also enjoys using that experience to help others. "It’s a way of giving back. It’s a way of helping people who may not have a lot of resources or who may not have the opportunity to be engaged in these activities."

CLASSIFIEDS

The Daily Lariat classifieds are now available online.

NEWS

The Baylor community also helps with the food pantry and the Student Council, which she says is like taking student groups. She enjoys getting outside and walking or running.
Baylor Bears

The brand new Baylor Lariat app is available now!

Available for Android, iPhones and iPads on the iTunes store.

Connect Now!