BU Hosts 10,500

Baptist ministers of Texas Royal Ambassadors, Boy Scouts and faculty of the Baylor football players—10,500 guests in all—were expected on the campus this weekend.

Saturday has been designated as Minister’s Day. RA Day. Day for the glee clubs at the Baylor football game.

Also on campus during the weekend are family members from Baylor’s hospital administration at the Baptist General Hospital at Waco who have come for their annual visit—and about 900 members of the Baptist General Association of Directors—since last year.

About 1,200 will be participating in the third annual Student Congress, beginning with a session at 2:30 p.m. Friday in the Student Union:

The SR days of the term will be observed by the Student Union during Thursday morning and the annual Student Congress opening on a Monday period, 8:30 a.m. to the Tuesday's Student Congress Thursday.

The Student Congress organization was not brought before Student Congress Thursday.

The First Lady was wearing a white and yellow outfit with an embroidered black cloche. She was accompanied by her hair was covered with a black cloche.

In front of the terminal Negroes winded through the crowd and black signs with slogans such as "Freedom," "We Demand," "No zu" and "SNAP" was written in a lower case.

One man in a green tie held up a sign that read, "We Demand," "We Need" and "SNAP." The clouds were sometimes very thick and the light in the terminal was very dark.

There were no speeches for the day, but there was a hearty wave of the hand.

The Kennedy's were greeted by several thousand more people as they arrived as the Rico Hotel in downtown Houston. At 4:30 p.m. they attended a dinner honoring Rep. Al Thomas in the Texas House Complex (See related story).

Earl Hankamer, A True Friend

By TOMMY WEST

Baylor President Abner V. McCaIl has nothing but praise for Earl C. Hankamer, who was restored to the legislature last week by the Baptist General Convention of Texas. Hankamer has served on the board of trustees of several hospitals.

McCaIl said Hankamer "the warmest thing to an indispensable man we have at Baylor." He said he was "extremely happy" and "our hearts went out to the board.

"in every respect, he's the most loyal and most generous trustee," McCaIl said. "He's given more of his time and energy and that of any other person on the board.

McCaIl said that Baylor has "called on him (Hankamer) a thousand times and he always responded, whether it was for advice, or money, or to come down here to help us help them—he always came.

April 20, 1963, was declared Hankamer Day in Waco by the then mayor Maurice Barnes, in conjunction with the dedication of the $1 million Hankamer School of Business.

Hankamer's early achievements included $800,000 on his own to fund the construction of an adequate building for the School of Business.

McCaIl said Hankamer also contributed substantially to the founding of the Southwestern Publishing-Browning Library.

Hankamer was born in the town of Hankamer in Chambers County, Texas. He attended the Baylor Academy (the high school department maintained at that time) and then through Baylor University.

Hankamer graduated in 1918 with a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Hankamer has lived in Houston since 1933, where he has served on the Executive Committee of Baylor University College of Medicine. He has been active for many years in religious, civic, and other activities and has served on boards of trustees of several hospitals.

Hankamer has been an honorary member of the Baylor chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, national honorary business fraternity. The university also bestowed the honorary doctor of laws degree on Hankamer in 1951.

"All three years, whatever progress Baylor has made (Hankamer) helped on it," McCaIl said.

WEW Draws Varied Reactions, Lawson Acclaimed by Many

World Emphasis Week is over and the results of a Baylor survey show that for those who attended, Bill Lawson was the main attraction.

Carol Weatherford, Fort Worth freshman, that although Baylor Religious Hour Wednesday night was the only sermons she had attended the year, last night was the best thing she had seen since it been here and I can see why in my mind now.

"On campus we forget that the world outside is concerned with the little circle of civilization. This week has been important and it hadn’t served its full purpose because there hadn’t been enough student participation.

The teachers just didn’t approach this year’s WEW. Mike Jenkins, Dallas junior, said that the week was better than most of the past ones. “It’s been better organized and has been varied and on a higher standard. The speakers were better and the interviews with the speakers is a real good idea.”

"I went last year to hear Gerald Jones,” said mid-law student Mid Foote, “and I felt the message was excellent.” Powers said he had attended a meeting Thursday morning and had thought it “really good.”

"The message was inspiring,” said a senior from Anchorage, Alaska, who enjoyed the week. "I think it makes everybody step into a little about with God and our relationship with Him. It’s a little slow and I’m learning that I’m not so isolated and doesn’t have anything to say.

"I am getting a better idea of what the Baptist Church is all about its ideas and I’m learning that they are trying to save souls.”

By The Associated Press

Southern Methodist University meets Baylor at Waco Saturday in a game that can shift the Southwest Conference football race to a permanent glue.

If the Methodist beat their Baylor rivals, University of Texas as will hold a clear claim in the title and the conference's battle with Texas A&M at College Station Thanksgiving Day will have only national significance.

Texas will be in the conference championship and winner of nine straight games, can sack up the national championship by defeating Texas Tech at Lubbock.

Baylor is 4-1 and all other teams have been eliminated from play. Although Apaches will be at Fort Worth, it will be a tie for the conference championship and winner of nine straight games, can sack up the national championship by defeating Texas Tech at Lubbock.

Only three games are on the schedule as conference campaign enters its penultimate weekend. The Baylor-SMU clash is the lone game that means anything.

Baylor's victory over Texas last week with its 17-0 victory over Texas will make the score 13-5. However, they hadn't been a November game under Coach Frank Broyles.
