Students suit up for Waco job fair

By Jennifer Allen and Berenice Flannery

Students still looking for employment or internships during the spring while taking classes can look for opportunities at the Work in Waco Job Fair.

The career fair is from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. today in the Waco Convention Center. Admission to the event is free.

The event website has information for students planning to attend. From tips on how to introduce to visit where to want, Work in Waco provides this resource.

"To attend the job fair, students must be professionally dressed. Bring copies of resume and bring student ID," the website says.

As of yesterday, there were 64 employers listed to attend. Edward Jones, World Hunger Relief, Inc. and KXXV News Channel 25 are a few of the Waco employers attending.

The Office of Career and Professional Development has hosted three other job fairs this semester. The Work in Waco Job Fair will be the last one of the spring.

Boston Marathon bombing, victims solemnly paid tribute to one year later

BOSTON — Survivors, first responders and relatives of those killed in the Boston Marathon bombing marked the anniversary Tuesday with tributes that combined scenes over the loss of innocent victims with pride over the city’s resilience in the face of a terror attack.

"This day will always be hard, but this place will always be strong," former Mayor Thomas Menino told an invited-only audience of about 2,500 people at the Hynes Convention Center, not far from the finish line where three people died and more than 260 others were injured a year ago.

Vice President Joe Biden, who attended the ceremony, said the courage shown by survivors and those who lost loved ones is an inspiration for the world.

"You have become the face of America’s resolve," he said.

Biden also praised the 36,000 runners who plan to run the marathon next week, saying they will send a message to terrorists.

"Nations will never turn over, stand down," he said, closed applause. He added, "We own the finish line.

In Washington, President Barack Obama was observing the anniversary with a private moment of silence at the White House.

"Today, we recognize the incredible courage and leadership of so many Bostonians in the wake of unspeakable tragedy," Obama said in a statement.

"And we offer our deepest gratitude to the courageous firefighters, police officers, medical professionals, runners and volunteers who, in an instant, displayed the spirit Boston was built on — perseverance, freedom and love.

Obama said this year’s race, scheduled for April 21, will “honor the will of Bostonians to run strong as a city and run on together.

City Council to continue strip club discussion

Waco City Council will keep talking about two proposed ordinances to regulate adult strip clubs and other sexually oriented businesses, as agreed during Tuesday night’s meeting.

Mayor Macedo Duncan opened the floor for public commentary, he said council members had too many questions about the proposed ordinances to make a decision. A motion passed without disagreement to keep the discussion going until the vote on May 20.

City councilman Troy Herbert, who represents the fourth district, had not decided how to vote on the proposed ordinance yet.

"I don’t think I understand some of the language," he said. "It wasn’t only about adult cabarets, the proposals also affected different adult businesses.

One of the proposals allows current city zoning laws to keep the sexually oriented businesses at least 400 feet away from public schools and churches.

City attorney Jennifer Ritchie said the amendment differs some terms and language certain sexually oriented businesses, within 400 feet, were established before the zoning ordinance.

Ericksen said the second proposal is for modifying the city’s laws around sexually oriented businesses.

"Our ordinance that we have right now was enacted in 1993," he said.

BOSTON (AP) — The death penalty is an ugly and divisive issue in Texas politics. Candidates don’t just get into the running — they clobber each other. Even the governor and lieutenant governor, who have no say in who gets the lethal injection, have let their differences show. Reporter Marcelo S. Lozada and I tend to focus on the strength that draws on from fellow senators, first responders, doctors, nurses and friends who have lost loved ones.

We should never have to hear the way we lost our family member or friend, said Patrick. It’s always a battle when an issue is political.

Student pulls together art, yoga for tranquility

By Kar Wielczak

Art, yoga for together

Finding yoga gives people a little bit of anxiety and nerves, so it is a way to calm down. You can meditate and then try to teach others how to do the new poses.

I like to see other people accomplish something because a lot of people think they can’t do it. They end up being able to do it in a week or two.

I really enjoy it. I can tell they like it because it is on campus and it is sporting as it is.

A: I do yoga every day. I figured it is a way to work without hurting your body. It is just about your body and is good for everybody to try. You would be surprised on how enjoyable it is.

Q: What is your favorite part about teaching?
A: Having an excuse to have to work out every day.

Q: What level are most of your students?
A: They are all beginner to intermediate. That’s how I base my class.

Q: How is it working with the Bearobics studio?
A: They really enjoy it. I can tell they like it because it is on campus and it is sporting as it is.

Q: What benefits do you think yoga gives?
A: It helps with calming stress and anxiety. As a college student, I believe we all have a little stress and anxiety, so it is a great benefit to me.

Q: What do you encourage your students to encourage them to try yoga?
A: I haven’t talked to anyone who hasn’t liked doing yoga. A yoga is a great way to work out without hurting your body.

A: As the Bearobics studio, you are always doing a new technique and there are mirrors and windows that aren’t as sporting as it is.

Q: What is it like doing yoga in the gallery compared to a studio?
A: It is taken in your own studio.

Q: How do you guys respond to practicing yoga in the gallery?
A: We always practice it. We do a lot of body stretching. Most of the people who come to our class have neck pain, back pain — some kind of pain that other workouts might not remove.

Baylor Ballpark. The Bears have a two-game winning streak and are 16-19 (4-7) this season.

Freshman right-handed pitcher Nick Lewis releases a pitch in Baylor's 1-0 win over Texas Southern on Tuesday at Waco. Ari Hawkins. Cargill received the opportunity.

Contrary to many top opposing teams that feature a majority of upperclassmen, Baylor has not shied away from growing its young talent. Cargill played on Buzz Fast-Pitch softball for Baylor softball ever since I was a kid. She's been watching from here, and I've always wanted to come to Baylor, Cargill said. I've seen a lot of games here, especially with Whitney [Canion] pitching. In high school, I always wanted to play with Whitney and Clare House. I've been watching Baylor softball ever since I was a little kid. It's a dream come true to play in center field here.
