Editorial: Don’t Tread on us

“There should be more ‘no bike’ zones on campus. These zones would apply to bicycles, motorcycles and mopeds.”

Page 2

Sports

Bear’s play two key in-conference matches this weekend

Page 7

The Baylor Lariat

WE'RE THERE WHEN YOU CAN'T BE

Friday | October 24, 2014

Food Day encourages students to go green

By Sara Kate Hultgren

Baylor PD to expand force with Title IX coordinator position

By Rebecca Flannery

Baylor Police Department is planning to hire a new Title IX coordinator this semester to add to the university with an already established department.

Institutions that receive funding from Title IX, a federal student aid program, are required by the Clery Act to provide the Department of Education with data about sexual assault cases on their campuses. In addition, institutions must provide campus safety reports to the Department of Education shows an increase in total sexual offenses on Baylor’s campus from nine cases in 2012 to 16 in 2013. Title IX coordinator.

The latest data released from the U.S. Department of Education shows an increase in total sexual offenses on Baylor’s campus from nine cases in 2012 to 16 in 2013. Wigtil said the rise in Clery data could be associated with the university’s efforts to make reporting cases less daunting for assaulted victims. He said students are able to talk to departments outside of the police force.

Agency’s gala raises money for adoptions

By Anaela Lewis

Generations Adoptions has a storied history in the Waco community for 10 years, connecting children in need with families, and Saturday a gala will raise awareness to its mission. At 6 p.m. in the Baylor Club at McLane Stadium, the Hope Gala will act as a fundraiser for the agency to help alleviate the costs of adoption services for Waco families and further their counseling services for pregnant women.

Generations Adoptions is a local Christian agency specializing in permanent adoptive families for children from around the world and counseling support services for women through out their pregnancies.

Cathy Sones, executive director of Generations Adoptions, said the gala is the agency’s biggest fundraising celebration each year and she is expecting this year to be even better because it

Baylor’s Model United Nations program will host a tournament Saturday in Old Main. High school students from Texas and Louisiana will be attending.

By Jon Pratt

Baylor’s Model United Nations program will host a tournament Saturday in Old Main. High school students from Texas and Louisiana will be attending.

BU Model UN to expand its reach to high schools

By Sara Kate Hultgren

Baylor’s Model United Nations program is reaching out to high school students across the country to build both the program and the university.

High school students from across Texas are gathering this Saturday at the school in celebration of National Food Day. Children get the stamps by trying new things, such as having a goal.
It’s your duty to be an informed citizen

The Baptist church, a plethora of personal issues:

Religious Freedom
Sometimes it’s good to question your beliefs

I should begin by confessing that I left school at seventeen. It was a part of my detail to my joy in practic-

The Baylor Lariat
Friday October 24, 2014

Keep bikes, mopeds off sidewalks

Editorial

The faculty and students of this institution have the duty to be aware of events.

On the Parking and Transportation Ser-

That my reading of the Bible was in-

The same rules apply to bicyclists as to car drivers. Bicycles are supposed to stop the traffic flow. A car is not allowed on a sidewalk, a bicycle should be either.

People should be more respectively of the pedestrian, which means giving

easy sideswipe them, causing damage to the

keeping in mind, the mobility of the Communication each provide avenues to neighboring country and of our world.

Keep bikes, mopeds off sidewalks

Editorial

Those areas are for pedestrians and bicycles and mopeds are prohibited from using Fifth walkways or near doorways. Motorcycles

The Waco City Council, dozens of non-

Asst. city editor

Paula Ann Solis*

Editor in chief

Michael C. Mistak

Editorial, Columns & Letters

Editorials express the opinions of the Lariat Board. Letters are the opinions of an individual and not the Lariat Board.

It is unlawful to do this to do good or to do harm. This is the way life is. I think the taken, which means giving them surviving another road. For all its convenience, it toxic waste to the environment and the both sides of the to engage each other in discussion and it be service-minded, academically focused, or

In my community, those people

As I was still in middle school.

The same rules apply to bicyclists as to
car drivers. Bicycles are supposed to stop

the traffic flow. A car is not allowed on

a sidewalk, a bicycle should be either.

People should be more respectively of the pedestrian, which means giving

easy sideswipe them, causing damage to the

keeping in mind, the mobility of the

Communication each provide avenues to

neighboring country and of our world.

Keep bikes, mopeds off sidewalks

Editorial

The faculty and students of this institution have the duty to be aware of events.

On the Parking and Transportation Ser-

That my reading of the Bible was in-

The same rules apply to bicyclists as to car drivers. Bicycles are supposed to stop

the traffic flow. A car is not allowed on

a sidewalk, a bicycle should be either.

People should be more respectively of the pedestrian, which means giving

easy sideswipe them, causing damage to the

keeping in mind, the mobility of the

Communication each provide avenues to

neighboring country and of our world.

Keep bikes, mopeds off sidewalks

Editorial

The faculty and students of this institution have the duty to be aware of events.

On the Parking and Transportation Ser-

That my reading of the Bible was in-

The same rules apply to bicyclists as to car drivers. Bicycles are supposed to stop

the traffic flow. A car is not allowed on

a sidewalk, a bicycle should be either.

People should be more respectively of the pedestrian, which means giving

easy sideswipe them, causing damage to the

keeping in mind, the mobility of the

Communication each provide avenues to

neighboring country and of our world.

Keep bikes, mopeds off sidewalks

Editorial

The faculty and students of this institution have the duty to be aware of events.

On the Parking and Transportation Ser-

That my reading of the Bible was in-

The same rules apply to bicyclists as to car drivers. Bicycles are supposed to stop

the traffic flow. A car is not allowed on

a sidewalk, a bicycle should be either.

People should be more respectively of the pedestrian, which means giving

easy sideswipe them, causing damage to the

keeping in mind, the mobility of the

Communication each provide avenues to

neighboring country and of our world.

Keep bikes, mopeds off sidewalks

Editorial

The faculty and students of this institution have the duty to be aware of events.
A club member warms up on a worn punching bag. The bag even has arms off the sides that swing as it spins. It teaches boxers to be aware of their surroundings and dodge while still fighting.

Alexis Rossas works on his endurance and dodging with the armed punching bag. Using punching bags is essential in a good warmup.

Waco youth take their turn in the ring learning the beginning of footwork and endurance. The Waco Boxing Club is home to the young and the old.

Combos, KOs and Powerful Punches
A photo story by Richard Hirst
Lariat Multimedia Editor

David Cordova of Waco goes for a right hook against his opponent at the Waco Boxing Club. Hooks and jabs are a key part of the sport.

Waco youth take their turn in the ring learning the beginning of footwork and endurance. The Waco Boxing Club is home to the young and the old.

Alexis Rossas works on his endurance and dodging with the armed punching bag. Using punching bags is essential in a good warmup.

Waco youth take their turn in the ring learning the beginning of footwork and endurance. The Waco Boxing Club is home to the young and the old.
Now has a website to make help more streamlined for0 people. The campaign employs the Bear Up Now to combat sexual assualt. The campaign is being promoted by several other faculty on campus.

According to a press release from the Department of Education, "The final rule requires institutions to record incidents of stalking on a campus, as well as group discussions about how to handle situations of sexual assault. The rule was the first year the department has trained peer leaders on how to handle sexual assault." According to Kourtney Knowles, a Baylor crime prevention officer, along with several other faculty on campus, created a sexual assault prevention campaign this year called Bear Up Now to combat sexual assault on campus. The campaign employs the website Bear Up Now to create a more streamlined solution for students. Additionally, Bear Up Now was created in order to get the word out!

The greatest thing is that is a way for us to help people find resources on campus as a place to help them deal with the crisis they’ve experienced," Wight said. "It’s done from the police department to initially report it, that doesn’t mean you have to go forward with prosecution. If you want to go to the police department we can get you medical assistance and counseling assistance as needed.”

According to the Children’s Bureau of the Administration for Children and Families in 2012, there were 13,448 children in Texas waiting to be adopted. "We need work for families going through adoption, but seeing the happy families and faces this night is worth it." Sonan said the night will begin with food cooked by the Baylor Club, while silent and live auctions feature such as MacBooks and iPods will be available on the silent auction. The live auction will offer trips to places such as Colorado and New Mexico, ball tickets to Major League Baseball and Baylor basketball games as well as a chance to perform on stage and the number of children to continue to rise.

Sonan said the Hope Gala is looking to bring more of these orphaned children into loving homes and lower the number of children in need.

Lydia Mathis, a board member of Generations Adoptions, said households raising money for the agency or the gala, the best way to help also help children into families is to transform systems to the adoption agency.

“the greatest thing is that it’s letting us become more part of the community.” Mathis said. "We want to encourage everyone involved in this while so we also accomplish all those goals of saving lives. "

Although tickets for the luncheon are $100 and will be sold only at the dinner, individual tickets are still available for $20 to $30. For more information or to purchase a ticket, call 254-714-1433.

Like The Baylor Lariat on Facebook | tag us on Instagram photos The Baylor Lariat

food For a thing, Baylor’s Office of Community Engagement and Service is donating 1,200 paper bags. The bags will be handed out around Waco to encourage people to contribute to the food drive.

Around the community, other organizations are participating in the Food Day commuter campaigns in their own ways. World Hunger Relief, Inc. will have Farmers Day on Saturday with an interactive Food Day booth.

This booth will be specifically focused on healthy eating,” said Matt Hess, executive director of World Hunger Relief. “People will get to make a smoothie with a bicycle operated blender. It’s called a blender bike and it’s from Outdoor Vistas.” Hess also said kids can also take tests at the booth to have an opportunity to try vegetables they may not have before.

Like Shepherd’s Heart, World Hunger Relief is a member of the Global Waco organization. Hess said the organization is interested in health outcomes in Waco, specifically obesity rates and diet related diseases. The organization wants as a whole to encourage nutrition and action. Hess also said Farm Day at the World Hunger Relief farm is a free event. It will include hayrides, a pumpkin patch, farm tours and a meal cooked from fresh food on site. Live entertainment will be provided from 9 a.m. until just 2 p.m.

Egyptian potato salad, lemon butter bar and pork ribs are all on Saturday’s menu, according to World Hunger Relief’s Facebook page. Vegetarian and gluten-free options will also be available.

The organization has set goals to raise funds. “We want to expose ourselves and do it necessarily about rape, but it encompasses victims enhanced rights, which is the Violence Elimination Act increases violence and hate crimes were of comfort to those facing it. This year we are hoping to raise $100,000 in funds at the gala and will be at the Baylor Club.” Sones said. “It’s so much more, “ Sones said. “It’s so much more comfortable reporting it to the police force in order to report Clery crimes. People just really enjoy it a lot.”

At the beginning of the semester, She group discussions about how to handle situations of sexual assault. The rule was the first year the department has trained peer leaders on how to handle sexual assault. “It’s done from the police department to initially report it, that doesn’t mean you have to go forward with prosecution. If you want to go to the police department we can get you medical assistance and counseling assistance as needed.”

According to the Children’s Bureau of the Administration for Children and Families, in 2012, there were 13,448 children in Texas waiting to be adopted. "We need work for families going through adoption, but seeing the happy families and faces this night is worth it." Sonan said the night will begin with food cooked by the Baylor Club, while silent and live auctions feature such as MacBooks and iPods will be available on the silent auction. The live auction will offer trips to places such as Colorado and New Mexico, ball tickets to Major League Baseball and Baylor basketball games as well as a chance to perform on stage and the number of children to continue to rise.

Sonan said the Hope Gala is looking to bring more of these orphaned children into loving homes and lower the number of children in need.

Lydia Mathis, a board member of Generations Adoptions, said households raising money for the agency or the gala, the best way to help also help children into families is to transform systems to the adoption agency.

“the greatest thing is that it’s letting us become more part of the community.” Mathis said. "We want to encourage everyone involved in this while so we also accomplish all those goals of saving lives. "

Although tickets for the luncheon are $100 and will be sold only at the dinner, individual tickets are still available for $20 to $30. For more information or to purchase a ticket, call 254-714-1433.

Like The Baylor Lariat on Facebook | tag us on Instagram photos The Baylor Lariat

food For a thing, Baylor’s Office of Community Engagement and Service is donating 1,200 paper bags. The bags will be handed out around Waco to encourage people to contribute to the food drive.

Around the community, other organizations are participating in the Food Day commuter campaigns in their own ways. World Hunger Relief, Inc. will have Farmers Day on Saturday with an interactive Food Day booth.

This booth will be specifically focused on healthy eating,” said Matt Hess, executive director of World Hunger Relief. “People will get to make a smoothie with a bicycle operated blender. It’s called a blender bike and it’s from Outdoor Vistas.” Hess also said kids can also take tests at the booth to have an opportunity to try vegetables they may not have before.

Like Shepherd’s Heart, World Hunger Relief is a member of the Global Waco organization. Hess said the organization is interested in health outcomes in Waco, specifically obesity rates and diet related diseases. The organization wants as a whole to encourage nutrition and action. Hess also said Farm Day at the World Hunger Relief farm is a free event. It will include hayrides, a pumpkin patch, farm tours and a meal cooked from fresh food on site. Live entertainment will be provided from 9 a.m. until just 2 p.m.

Egyptian potato salad, lemon butter bar and pork ribs are all on Saturday’s menu, according to World Hunger Relief’s Facebook page. Vegetarian and gluten-free options will also be available.

The organization has set goals to raise funds. “We want to expose ourselves and do it necessarily about rape, but it encompasses victims enhanced rights, which is the Violence Elimination Act increases violence and hate crimes were of comfort to those facing it. This year we are hoping to raise $100,000 in funds at the gala and will be at the Baylor Club. “Sones said. “It’s so much more comfortable reporting it to the police force in order to report Clery crimes. People just really enjoy it a lot.”

At the beginning of the semester, She group discussions about how to handle situations of sexual assault. The rule was the first year the department has trained peer leaders on how to handle sexual assault. “It’s done from the police department to initially report it, that doesn’t mean you have to go forward with prosecution. If you want to go to the police department we can get you medical assistance and counseling assistance as needed.”

According to the Children’s Bureau of the Administration for Children and Families, in 2012, there were 13,448 children in Texas waiting to be adopted. "We need work for families going through adoption, but seeing the happy families and faces this night is worth it." Sonan said the night will begin with food cooked by the Baylor Club, while silent and live auctions feature such as MacBooks and iPods will be available on the silent auction. The live auction will offer trips to places such as Colorado and New Mexico, ball tickets to Major League Baseball and Baylor basketball games as well as a chance to perform on stage and the number of children to continue to rise.

Sonan said the Hope Gala is looking to bring more of these orphaned children into loving homes and lower the number of children in need.

Lydia Mathis, a board member of Generations Adoptions, said households raising money for the agency or the gala, the best way to help also help children into families is to transform systems to the adoption agency.

“the greatest thing is that it’s letting us become more part of the community.” Mathis said. "We want to encourage everyone involved in this while so we also accomplish all those goals of saving lives. "

Although tickets for the luncheon are $100 and will be sold only at the dinner, individual tickets are still available for $20 to $30. For more information or to purchase a ticket, call 254-714-1433.
Dancing priests go viral in YouTube video

ROME — A video of a pair of dancing, dueling priests studying in Rome has gone viral, following the recent popularity of a now-famous Italian nun whose Alicia Keys-esque voice won her a singing contest and a record contract.

The Rev. David Ryder, 29, of Hyde Park, New York, and the Rev. John Gibson, 28, of Milwaukee, first shot to Internet fame when they were filmed in April during a fundraiser at the North American College, the elite American seminary up the hill from the Vatican.

Roker warmed up the crowd with a lively tap-dance routine, and then pushed aside by Gibson’s fast-footed Irish dance. Soon they were battling it out.

“At the back of the room, journalist Joan Lewis recorded the event and later posted on YouTube. “All of a sudden the numbers started rising and rising,” Lewis told The Associated Press. The video has nearly 260,000 views.

Their Internet success has drawn comparisons to St. Cristina Scuccia, who won the Italian edition of “The Voice” in June with a series of unadorned pop-song performances, in all black. Her first album features a cover of Shakira’s “Like a Virgin.”

As with Scuccia, the priests’ online popularity was tinged with criticism. Some commentators wrote that the priests shouldn’t have been dancing under a crucifix and a running of the Popes Franciscan, calling it “disrespectful.”

The Associated Press — A video of a pair of dancing, dueling American priests studying in Rome has gone viral, following the recent popularity of a now-famous Italian nun whose Alicia Keys-esque voice won her a singing contest and a record contract.

The Rev. David Ryder, 29, of Hyde Park, New York, and the Rev. John Gibson, 28, of Milwaukee, first shot to Internet fame when they were filmed in April during a fundraiser at the North American College, the elite American seminary up the hill from the Vatican.

Roker warmed up the crowd with a lively tap-dance routine, and then pushed aside by Gibson’s fast-footed Irish dance. Soon they were battling it out.

“At the back of the room, journalist Joan Lewis recorded the event and later posted on YouTube. “All of a sudden the numbers started rising and rising,” Lewis told The Associated Press. The video has nearly 260,000 views.

Their Internet success has drawn comparisons to St. Cristina Scuccia, who won the Italian edition of “The Voice” in June with a series of unadorned pop-song performances, in all black. Her first album features a cover of Shakira’s “Like a Virgin.”

As with Scuccia, the priests’ online popularity was tinged with criticism. Some commentators wrote that the priests shouldn’t have been dancing under a crucifix and a running of the Popes Franciscan, calling it “disrespectful.”

The Associated Press
This Year's Portrait Dates

October 21st
(SENIORS ONLY)
Noon to 6 p.m.
Bear Faire
at Ferrell Center

October 22-24
9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
CUB of the
Bill Daniel
Student Center

November 4-7
9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
CUB of the
Bill Daniel
Student Center

Students are encouraged to schedule their appointments online, but walk-ins are welcome. Sign up at thorntonestudio.com using school code 03545. The Oct. 21 session is for seniors only. The remaining portrait sessions are for all classes, including seniors.

defending National Champs

2013 BEST OF SHOW
Baylor Roundup Yearbook

Associated Collegiate Press
After salvaging a win in Norman, Okla., on Sunday, it became clear that the Bears are not going down without a fight. With only three conference games remaining in the season, Baylor soccer plays in two prestigious Big 12 matches this weekend.

The Red Raiders are currently sitting at a three-way tie with Baylor and Oklahoma. Texas is right on the Bear’s tail—just one point behind in the conference standings. With two wins this weekend, the Bears could see themselves firmly take hold of a spot in the top four of the Big 12 standings. The Bears face off against the Red Raiders and the Sooners this weekend. "To be able to get a win on the road [in Norman] I think definitely gives us momentum and excitement into another road weekend," Baylor co-head coach Paul Jobson said. "Friday in Lubbock is going to be a tough test as well."

"I think they have the second best at-large bid in the conference. [Baylor] school together, which adds to the rivalry," senior midfielder Alexa Wilde said. "I think both teams, especially for us, we really enjoy that type of game, I would say, even more so than others," senior midfielder Alina Beckie said. "It’s definitely an emotional and passion game. I think both teams, especially for us, we really enjoy that type of game too. It’s very intense, people are on the edge, and it’s always a close, well-fought, scrappy match. Every time they come here, or we go there, it’s always an exciting game."

"I think that the Red Raiders share a mutual respect and a healthy rivalry in Big 12 soccer," Wilde said. Many of the players from both sides have past experiences from club soccer or high school together, which adds to the rivalry-dynamics, Wilde said.

"We've got three matches left, two in the regular season, and we’re going one at a time," Jobson said. To be able to get a win on the road is a great accomplishment for us."

"To be able to get a win on the road [in Norman] I think definitely gives us momentum and excitement into another road weekend," Baylor co-head coach Paul Jobson said. "Friday in Lubbock is going to be a tough test as well."

"I think they have the second best at-large bid in the conference. [Baylor] school together, which adds to the rivalry," senior midfielder Alexa Wilde said. "I think both teams, especially for us, we really enjoy that type of game, I would say, even more so than others," senior midfielder Alina Beckie said. "It’s definitely an emotional and passion game. I think both teams, especially for us, we really enjoy that type of game too. It’s very intense, people are on the edge, and it’s always a close, well-fought, scrappy match. Every time they come here, or we go there, it’s always an exciting game."

"I think that the Red Raiders share a mutual respect and a healthy rivalry in Big 12 soccer," Wilde said. Many of the players from both sides have past experiences from club soccer or high school together, which adds to the rivalry-dynamics, Wilde said.

Texan Tech forward senior Janine Beckie was an All-Big 12 Preseason Poll first team pick and started Big 12 play as the top scorer in pre-conference games. Becky fell off the radar in the first six Big 12 matches though, averaging only 0.33 goals in that span.

"It's definitely cool to be on the road, to play against elite teams and not having to worry about emotion play on the home side," Jobson said. "It’s been a real exciting time for me here, at Baylor, and a lot of that growing has happened on this field."

"We've got three matches left, two in the regular season, and we’re going one at a time," Jobson said.
Justine Hovden
Senior Forward
Baylor Soccer

Skye Duncan | Lariat Photographer