California extends climate change law

It will "keep California on the move to clean up the environment," Brown said in a Los Angeles park before signing a pair of bills that, according to experts, will significantly reduce greenhouse-gas emissions by 2020.

Experts said going forward, one of the key challenges will be to increase renewable electricity generation in existing buildings and putting emission vehicles and imposing new regulations on oil companies.

According to NAACP president Reginald Singletary, the organization considers voting an important initiative.

NAACP to host voter registration block party

The NAACP is planning a voter registration event in Waco. There will be activities throughout the day, including a voter registration drive from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m., on Tuesday, October 18.

Let’s talk about sex. Or not.

Baylor is really great at starting conversations. There’s no dearth of discussion about gender, engaging the community, pursuing academic excellence and finding balance. Our only quibble is that the institution doesn’t quite understand the challenges the campus faces.

For example, Brookes Turner, the former Harvard student who was convicted of raping a classmate in a six-month rape trial in prison, was on campus for a lecture and a sentencing hearing on this good behavior. This surely added to the reason for making rape in or on the campus and for those who make it through to the end of the night in order to ensure everyone’s safety.

It is important to have friends. I believe that we should open females’ eyes and ask what can we do to get the conversation on. It is important to have friends.

I would never say that any person should not be accountable for their actions. But if a male or female does decide to act on it, he or she should be held accountable. However, when violent incidents occur, the overwhelming response is that something is being done wrong, and that something is being done wrong to the victims.

One believes that everyone gets home to make sure that all are accounted for. It is important to have friends. It is important to have friends.

One student dead, one hurt in school shooting

ALPINE — A 14-year-old girl died of apparent self-inflicted gunshot wound after shooting and wounding another female student Thursday inside a high school in West Texas, according to the local sheriff.

Authorities hadn’t released a possible motive for the girl that killed herself at Alpine High School in Alpine, about 220 miles southeast of El Paso.

The shooting was followed by a series of unconfirmed threats to other areas in the area made by a male caller that added to the chaos of the day and diverted law enforcement.

“That’s indications for someone to call in something like this when we’ve got this situation going on,” Brewster County Sheriff Randy Dobson told radio station KLYE.

The sheriff said the family of the girl who died had moved to Alpine, a town of roughly 1,600 residents, about six months ago. She was a freshman at the school, he said, but he declined to provide other details. In recent decades, the majority of school shooting suspects have been males,

Dobson said the injured student ran outside seeking help and was taken to a hospital in Odessa.

The shooting at the high school prompted a lockdown at Alpine’s three public schools, which were later evacuated.

KANSAS CITY, Missouri — Hillary Clinton blasted Donald Trump Thursday for his hypocrisy about American military generals and his praise for Russian President Vladimir Putin, saying her Republican opponent had “lacked judgment” in questioning the loyalty of a general.

Trump did not directly respond to Clinton’s critique Thursday. At a speech in Cleveland, he tagged his Democratic opponent a “liar,” accused her of exaggerating her service record, “alleged” her to be “dishonest” and attacked her for her handling of the Iraq war.

Trump and Clinton have both portrayed the conflict in the Middle East as one of the most pressing issues facing the United States.

But Clinton saw the speech as an example of Trump’s failure to understand the complexities of foreign policy.

“Tonight, I will speak about the strength of America, the values that have made us great, and the policies that will keep our country strong,” Clinton said in a speech at George Washington University.

She said Trump had “failed to understand the true nature of the threat that we now face.”

Now adults, children of 9/11 draw inspiration from tragedy

Jennifer Peltz

Associated Press

NEW YORK — They were kids, or even born yet, when America’s heart broke.

When those 3,000 children and young adults lost a parent in the attacks of Sept. 11, 2001, on New York’s World Trade Center, Americans on soil actually impacted by those attacks, such as Bàiwal, do not recall. Those children were not old enough to remember the attacks, nor do they remember the horror.

But they have grown up, and the memories of those attacks are now old enough to nearly 9/11, and serve as a reminder of the violence they endured.

Forlorn Strangers drives into Waco

BRAD MURPHY
July 2, 2016

Many performers and vocalists have stopped by the Common Grounds stage among those of Forlorn Strangers, a band made up of five songwriters who blend to make one distinct entity. Forlorn Strangers will perform at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Waco Downtown Farmers Market.

Benjamin Lusk (banjo, upright bass, vocals), Chris Banke (guitar, vocals), Hannah Leigh Lusk (mandolin, percussion, vocals), Jesse Thompson (upright mandolin, vocals) and Josie Thompson (upright guitar, vocals) make up Forlorn Strangers. They then come together as a group and build the remaining pieces of the song such as the harmonies. After their tour, Forlorn Strangers hopes to settle down in a cabin and focus on creating their new album. They look forward to creating new songs together from scratch. They also plan to focus on maintaining harmony through their journey of growth, Hannah and Abigail said.

THE BUNDLE MAGAZINE
A group of Baylor students created an online magazine where they can write in the way they like, share contact on a personal level with their writing.

The Bundle Magazine is an online multimedia student publication that features original, student-generated articles, poems, and artwork. The magazine allows students to practice different styles of writing and express their thoughts, ideas, and creativity. The Bundle Magazine is open to all students who are interested in contributing their work, and it provides a space for students to share their thoughts and perspectives.

Week one of college football is in the books. The Baylor Bears took care of business in their season opener last week by dismantling the Northwestern State Demons 55-7, starting the season off on a good note.

With a win under their belts, the Bears will go on to face Southern Methodist University. Starting the season off on a good note, the Bears are coming off of a season-opening win against the University of North Texas 34-21. The Bears and Mustangs have been playing each other since Oct. 7, 1916, when the Bears ran over the Mustangs 34-21. The Bears and Mustangs have gone against one another, winning the Mustangs 50-136 during this span. The last time the Green and Gold lost was on Oct. 11, 1961.

From the other sideline’s perspective, Morris talked towards how they play their attitude and demeanor about Baylor’s football perspective, Morris talked about the Bears’ football team being a bunch of these kids, and they’re gonna do what they do, doesn’t matter who they play. He’s redshirting it is bringing in a lot of young talent. They’ve got some unbelievable linemen in the books. He thought he came out with a lot of intensity and he’s been looking at them ever since last year.

Linwood was the first player to score a touchdown inside McLane Stadium against SMU back in 2014, and they’re still gonna try to score a touchdown inside McLane Stadium against SMU this Saturday as they face off against the Mustangs.

A lot of players put up big numbers in the scoring books, including one running back who is close to setting a new school record.

Senior running back Shock Linwood is only 107 yards away from breaking the all-time leading rusher in Baylor history Currently, former Baylor running back Walter Auckerbock holds the school’s record with 3,665 rushing yards. After last week’s game against Northwestern State, Linwood is at 3,559 yards. With only two games remaining against SMU, Linwood could possibly boost the record in only his second game of the 2016 season. “I thought he came out with a lot of energy,” head football coach Jim Grobe said. “He was just normal, looking at the record in front of a home crowd, it would be pretty special.”

Linwood was the first player to score a touchdown inside McLane Stadium against SMU back in 2014, and could possibly be one game away from becoming the next all-time leading rusher. The Mustangs are looking to turn things around after a horrible 2015 campaign where they went 2-10 for the season. They played Baylor last season and saw a debut handed to them by a final score of 36-21. This season, the Bears have the same record.

“What I think we are seeing is what you would expect is that the longer Chad is there, the more experience these guys get and the better they’ll play. I’m expecting a real challenge Saturday,” Grobe said. “I know they challenged us last year, especially until I would expect anything different.”
